

Junior Currency Markets Analyst: Internship

Caxton FX is seeking to recruit and develop a junior currency markets analyst for a 6-9 month period to research and write about the currency markets and work within our fast paced, client focused account management team.

About the company

Caxton FX is a foreign exchange company that has become an entrepreneurial success story. From launch our ethos has been to offer excellent value for money and great customer service. Our growth is testament to the fact that we have delivered on that vision from day one.

Caxton FX was founded in 2002. Since then, it has grown from one man and a phone to a business that turns over circa £750 million. Our analysts are widely quoted in the UK press on currency issues and with over 200,000 clients, we remain focused on delivering excellent customer service. Caxton FX has been defined as one of the 50 businesses leading Britain based on outstanding growth at a pace 73 times greater than the National Average.

At the heart of our success is our people. Caxton FX is a people business and our successful growth has largely been a result of the outstanding relationships we have established with our growing base of customers.

The Caxton culture is open, honest, hardworking, professional and fun. With approximately 90 staff the company is going through an important growth phase which is focused on new product launches and geographical development. We want to hire the very best people to support our ambitious growth plans. Through educational and training initiatives we support each individual throughout the development of their career with the intention of stretching each one to a high standard of excellence.

What will a Junior Currency Markets Analyst do?

The purpose of this role is to support the senior markets analysts in their constant output of information and communication with clients and the media. It is to research and write analysis to enable clients and account managers to make informed decisions about foreign exchange and international payments.

In essence

- Analyse and write reports on the markets using economic data, headlines and developments in the commodities, equity and bond markets
- Continually develop and challenge the Caxton FX house view of what is happening and what is likely to happen to the major currency pairings
- Contribute to the morning report and ensure dispatch to the distribution list by 9.30 every morning

You will be smart, energetic, professional and engaging. You will have excellent writing ability and good reasoning skills. You will thrive in a hardworking, fast paced entrepreneurial environment.

No previous experience is necessary. This is an ideal role for a college leaver or those looking for meaningful work experience/internship as part of a sandwich course or gap year.
